

History at JCA:

We want our historians at JCA to be able to write at length about key events, people and time periods. They will have a solid grounding in chronology and they will be able to form solid opinions around causation and the consequences of events. They will be able to sustain these opinions and form substantive judgements. They will be able to critically analyse the usefulness and reliability of material but also be able to articulate the relevance of the past and the impact of it on their lives in Bristol.
